RUSHING WIND & HOLY FIRE

by Mike Jones

I grew up hearing preachers talking about the old time tent camp meetings. The liveliest place in town used to be the Methodist Camp Grounds. The Spirit of God would “move” and all kinds of “signs” would grab everyone’s attention. We still have them in Zambia, but the tents are actually old tarpaulins full of holes held up by wooden poles freshly cut. Its the hot and dry season, so no rain. Some places have the camp meetings under the trees. Some of the greatest miracles and healings ever seen, the greatest deliverances of the demon possessed, and the greatest numbers of salvations I’ve ever seen happen during Camp-Meeting.

The organizers, pastors, and speakers of the Camp-Meeting, believing the time was right, asked me to deliver a message on The Holy Spirit. Arriving at the camp meeting sight, having driven about forty miles from town on a dirt road, I found the numbers of people had swelled. The make shift tent was not nearly big enough, with a good number of people sitting under the bright sun. I began to speak and a “holy hush” fell on the congregation. More people still outside at their camping sights came and joined us. All of a sudden, a rushing the cloven tongues of fire coming to rest on them.

The presence of the Holy Spirit was manifested in various ways, which was strange for the majority of those present. My brother-in-law, who is like my son, having been saved at fourteen years of age at a youth meeting where I was sharing, stood to speak, being led by the Holy Spirit. The entire congregation had been spontaneously standing and praying with hands raised for a good while. He gave them liberty to go out, as it was lunch time and pots needed to mighty wind blew and filled the tent. The structure wasn’t very strong and should have been blown down. It was like the wind filled the tent, but didn’t touch the structure. The awesomeness of the moment was followed by fear. The sound of prayers of repentance got louder and louder. This was the purifying fire of holiness, be put on the fires, or stay if they “felt” God had more for them. Most of the crowd went out, but a good number remained. The Holy Spirit filled all of those that remained to overflowing. What happened can not be explained, because it was “out of this world”. God is taking the church to “higher ground” and new spiritual levels.

Many have prayed with us for our orphaned boy at Mapampi (across the Ngweze River), Royal. He seems to be "all there" mentally, but his body doesn't co-operate, only able to feed himself when food is given. We have believed God for his complete and total healing. I believe God is working in His mysterious ways. We seek the Lord for each child, seeking the right time for them to leave us and go back to their relatives. Our house mothers always make excuses as to why the child should not go back now. By God's grace, they love each child as their own flesh and blood. And like all parents, we don't want to let them go. This was especially true with Royal, having special needs. House Mother Daisy was the only mother Royal knew until her death this year. I "felt" the Lord telling me it was time for Royal to move on. I called his relatives. They gave me promises, but nothing really happened.

By the leading of the Lord, I went to preach at a church pastored by an old friend and spiritual son that had been asking me to come whenever I had an open Sunday. I knew the church was near Royal's relative, but didn't know he was a member of this particular church. We had a wonderful service, with the Pastor hearing for himself from the Lord, committing to disciple-ship for all of his church and all new converts. After the service, Royal's relative agreed to come and stay in Mapampi for a few days until he knows how to care for Royal. He came and is there today!

Our children both in the Valley and Mapampi are doing very well. A few are preparing to take the seventh grade examinations, which are a very big deal in this country. As much as I love the orphans, and the great joy they bring to my life, The School of Ministry (MOT-MOT) is doing more for The Kingdom of God. The church leaders of MOT-MOT students are leading many to Salvation in Jesus Christ, healing, and deliverance every week, even every day. I continue to preach and teach the gospel in churches, camp meetings, etc. The Kingdom work God has and is doing through me is multiplied thousands of times through these students and leaders. And this great "move" of God will continue long after I'm dead and gone.

Chabbobboma MOT-MOT should complete lessons this year, and have a wonderful graduation. A new class is planned to begin in Chifusa of Chief Siachitema. We thank the Lord for your prayers for the orphans, as they are all well and growing. Your prayers and support keep the gospel of The Kingdom of God winning on the front lines and gaining ground. My new family has added more joy to the joy I already had from work and family existing before. Remain Faithful,

Prayer

For Royal moving in with relatives.
 For planting of churches happening now.
 For 1st USA team since covid arriving November.

Praises

For out pouring of the Holy Spirit.
 For churches expanding more than ever..
 For vehicles taking us and the gospel all over.
